Model Publication Scheme

What is the Model Publication Scheme?

A model publication scheme is a framework approved by the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) that public authorities use to proactively publish information about their activities, policies and services.

Implementation

Public authorities must adopt the ICO model scheme in full without modification and make it publicly available, usually via their website, notice boards, or other communication channels. With this in mind, Meysey Hampton Parish Council have adopted the IOC model scheme in full.

Overview

The model publication scheme is designed to help public authorities comply with the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) by setting out a commitment to make certain classes of information routinely available to the public. It provides a standardised approach so that information is easy to find, access, and understand, reducing duplication and ensuring consistency across the public sector.

Purpose

The scheme aims to promote openness and accountability by specifying the types of information that should be published, how it will be made available, and any charges for access. It ensures that members of the public can access key documents such as policies, procedures, meeting minutes, reports, and financial information without needing to submit a formal FOIA request.

Structure and Classes of Information

The model publication scheme typically includes seven broad classes of information: (see main document below).

Compliance

Authorities are not required to notify the ICO when they adopt the scheme, but failure to implement it or to publish information in accordance with it constitutes a breach of FOIA. The scheme should be reviewed and updated regularly to reflect new publications or revisions to existing information.

Benefits

Using the model publication scheme helps public authorities:

- Improve transparency and public trust.
 - Reduce the number of individual FOIA requests.
 - Provide a clear, consistent method for accessing information.
 - Ensure compliance with legal obligations under FOIA
- by following the model publication scheme, public authorities can efficiently manage information disclosure while supporting accountability and public engagement.

Model publication scheme

Freedom of Information Act

This model publication scheme has been prepared and approved by the Information Commissioner. It may be adopted without modification by any public authority without further approval and will be valid until further notice.

This publication scheme commits an authority to make information available to the public as part of its normal business activities. The information covered is included in the classes of information mentioned below, where this information is held by the authority. Additional assistance is provided to the definition of these classes in sector specific guidance manuals issued by the Information Commissioner.

The scheme commits an authority:

- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information, including environmental information, which is held by the authority and falls within the classifications below.
- To specify the information which is held by the authority and falls within the classifications below.
- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information in line with the statements contained within this scheme.
- To produce and publish the methods by which the specific information is made routinely available so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public.
- To review and update on a regular basis the information the authority makes available under this scheme.
- To produce a schedule of any fees charged for access to information which is made proactively available.
- To make this publication scheme available to the public.
- To publish any dataset held by the authority that has been requested, and any updated versions it holds, unless the authority is satisfied that it is not appropriate to do so; to publish the dataset, where reasonably practicable, in an electronic form that is capable of re-use; and, if any information in the dataset is a relevant copyright work and the public authority is the only owner, to make the information available for re-use under the terms of the Re-use of Public Sector Information Regulations 2015, if they apply, and otherwise under the terms of the Freedom of Information Act section 19.

The term 'dataset' is defined in section 11(5) of the Freedom of Information Act. The term 'relevant copyright work' is defined in section 19(8) of that Act.

The method by which information published under this scheme will be made available

The authority will indicate clearly to the public what information is covered by this scheme and how it can be obtained.

Where it is within the capability of a public authority, information will be provided on a website. Where it is impracticable to make information available on a website or when an individual does not wish to access the information by the website, a public authority will indicate how information can be obtained by other means and provide it by those means.

In exceptional circumstances some information may be available only by viewing in person. Where this manner is specified, contact details will be provided. An appointment to view the information will be arranged within a reasonable timescale.

Information will be provided in the language in which it is held or in such other language that is legally required. Where an authority is legally required to translate any information, it will do so.

Obligations under disability and discrimination legislation and any other legislation to provide information in other forms and formats will be adhered to when providing information in accordance with this scheme.

Charges which may be made for information published under this scheme

The purpose of this scheme is to make the maximum amount of information readily available at minimum inconvenience and cost to the public. Charges made by the authority for routinely published material will be justified and transparent and kept to a minimum.

Material which is published and accessed on a website will be provided free of charge.

Charges may be made for information subject to a charging regime specified by Parliament.

Charges may be made for actual disbursements incurred such as:

- photocopying
- postage and packaging
- the costs directly incurred as a result of viewing information

Charges may also be made for information provided under this scheme where they are legally authorised, they are in all the circumstances, including the general principles of the right of access to information held by public authorities, justified and are in accordance with a published schedule or schedules of fees which is readily available to the public.

Charges may also be made for making datasets (or parts of datasets) that are relevant copyright works available for re-use. These charges will be in accordance with the terms of the Re-use of Public Sector Information Regulations 2015, where they apply, or with regulations made under section 11B of the Freedom of Information Act, or with other statutory powers of the public authority.

If a charge is to be made, confirmation of the payment due will be given before the information is provided. Payment may be requested prior to provision of the information.

Written requests

Information held by a public authority that is not published under this scheme can be requested in writing, when its provision will be considered in accordance with the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.

This document was reviewed and approved by Meysey Hampton Parish Council at the AGM held on 4th March 2026 and will be reviewed periodically as legislation requires.
